School Behaviour Policy

Over the course of the year we have been working on updating our school Behaviour Policy. We have high expectations of behaviour and the children respond well to those. The Behaviour Policy sets out what we believe in, as a school and how we manage behaviour. The policy is linked to our school vision and is based on three of our six key values, being respectful, being a team and being happy. The draft policy is now up on the school website in the policies section. If you would like to have a look and make a comment we would love to hear from you. Please send any comments to adminoffice@bordon-inf.hants.sch.uk or pop them in writing into the school office.

The main points of the Behaviour Policy are around how children get awarded green Dojo points. Children can be awarded points for:

- Staying focused
- Asking or answering questions
- Persevering on a task
- Evaluating something they or someone else has done
- Collaborating in a group
- Working well independently
- Using their imagination
- Being a good communicator

Each one of these goes towards a weekly individual and whole class total.

For negative behaviour a red dojo point may be given. This takes a point away from a child's individual total. Negative points may be given for being unkind, not being respectful or not listening. The focus of the school is on positivity and showing good learning behaviours so many more green, positive dojo points are given out than the red negative ones.

If you would like to discuss anything in the policy or about your child please come and speak to your child's class teacher.

E-Safety Day 7th February - Dress up as a Superhero

In two weeks we will again be focusing on staying safe online. The children will be doing a range of different activities all around staying safe when on the computer, tablets or phones. All the activities are age appropriate but are designed to begin the children's understanding of the rules they need to follow.

We also very much hope this will be a fun day for the children and to help the message stick in the children's mind we are all going to dress up as superheroes! We will be having a special assembly all about safety and what the children have learnt. This will be at 2:15pm and parents are very welcome to attend.

We will be having two parent information sessions. One at 9:15am in the Junior School and the other at 2:45pm in the Infant School. This will be straight after the assembly. Both talks will cover the same information and will be run by both Infant and Junior school staff. Please feel free to go to whichever session suits you best.
